

The Removal of Stickers and Posters

The project of IOCB complex reconstruction and construction began 24 months ago. On April 7, 2014 we took over the new Building B and the reconstructed NE wing of Building A from the main contractor within Stage I of the project. This project creates high-quality and world-class working conditions.

The Institute is entering a new stage and on June 19, 2014 (at 3 p.m.), the new premises will be officially opened to invited guests from among the scientific and journalistic communities and other important figures. During the ceremonial opening, the guests will be allowed to take a look around Building B (except for the laboratories).

For the above-mentioned reason and also for safety reasons (the visual inspection of the rooms), I hereby ask everyone for the permanent but gentle removal of all posters and other stickers from the walls in the hallways and from the doors (both from the inside and the outside) in Building B as well as the NE wing of Building A by June 17, 2014 inclusive.
