Call info	The program provides an opportunity to conduct collaborative research for young overseas researchers under the guidance of their hosts in universities and other research institutions in Japan.
Conditions / Restrictions	1st stage: The Czech Academy of Sciences - Division of International Cooperation will administer applications from the Czech Republic. The CAS will select top proposals and submit the complete documents to JSPS by the end of the application period. Applicants will be informed about selection outputs (August 2024). More information: https://www.avcr.cz/en/academic-public/international-affairs/news/Japan-JSPS-Postdoctoral-Fellowship-for-Overseas-Researchers-2024/

	2nd stage: Japanese Host institution application: Host researchers must be eligible to apply for a KAKENHI grant-in-aid and his/her affiliated institution must judge them able to implement the project and to provide an appropriate research environment (e.g., laboratory, equipment, personnel) for it. Each host researcher may submit up to 3 applications. When multiple applications are submitted, the host researcher should state the order of his/her priority. Overseas fellows (CANDIDATES) are allowed to prepare only 1 application. Host researchers should verify in advance that no other applications have been submitted for the CANDIDATE. The same person may not simultaneously be a CANDIDATE for two or more kinds of fellowship programs under each recruitment. Japanese citizens, foreigners who are permitted permanent residence in Japan, former awardees of the Fellowship are not eligible. Applications must be submitted to JSPS by a host researcher in Japan via the head of his/her university or institution. Overseas fellows wishing to participate in the program are advised to establish contact with a Japanese or foreign-resident researcher in their field and to ask him/her to submit an application. They should make this contact well in advance of the host institution's application deadline (more than 2 month before JSPS deadline). Each Japanese host institution has to confirm the application list on the electronic application system by the deadline. Each Japanese host institution has to submit two types of documents in paper by the deadline: (i) List of applications, (ii) List of applicants. For the fellow who has been living in Japan (and has a mailing address) before the fellowship starting date, the "traveling expense" of outbound flight and a "settle-in allowance" will not be paid. Fellows are not permitted to receive other fellowships or funding (e.g. salary or other compensation) during the tenure of their fellowships. Fellows are not allowed to receive per diem even when they are provided funds for transportation and accommodation during trips to execute their research plans. During the tenure, fellows must devote full time to their research at their host institutions, and not engage in any other work or research. Fellows must, as a rule, reside in Japan during the term of their fellowships, and leave Japan on the expiration date of their tenure. If Fellows wish to take a temporary leave of absence from Japan during the tenure, they must follow the JSPS rules. A Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research (Grant-in-Aid for JSPS Research Fellow) is available to cover cooperative research-related expenses. Application for these grants is made by the Japanese host researcher through his/her institution.
