

| Deadline | Tuesday, 29 October 2024, 3:00 PM (UK Time) | | |
|-----------------------------------|--|--|--|
| Call name | Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship 2025 | | |
| WWW | https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes-awards/grants/dorothy-hodgkin-fellowship/ | | |
| Focused on | Supporting talented postdoctoral scientists (scientists at an early stage of their career) needing flexibility, due to caring responsibilities or personal health reasons, and enabling them to build an independent research career. The research (8 year timeframe, with years 6-8 subject to satisfactory progress) is to be undertaken at a UK University or research institution. | | |
| Applicant | Early career scientists of any nationality with no more than 6 years of actual research experience post PhD by the application deadline, who can demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of the Fellowship and will last for the duration of the Fellowship (both men and women can apply and have received fellowships in the past). | | |
| Host institution | UK university or not-for-profit research organisation (including Research Council Institutes) | | |
| Expected outputs | (J) reviewed specialist article; Depending on the level of experience, successful applicants are expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their Fellowships | | |
| Call opens | Tues 05 Sep 2023 | | |
| Final deadline Evaluation results | Tuesday, 29 October 2024, 3:00 PM (UK Time) Interviews for shortlisted applicants: 5-6 June 2024 (notified in May 2024) | | |
| 0' | Results of the call: End July/Early Aug 2024 | | |
| Signature of | | | |
| agreement Earliest date of | 04 Oct 2025 04 Jon 2026 | | |
| implementation | 01 Oct 2025 – 01 Jan 2026 | | |
| Latest date of | 30 Sep 2033 – 31 Dec 2033 | | |
| implementation | NIA | | |
| Sustainability | NA | | |
| Reporting | Mid-fellowship checkpoint review at start of year 4 / Final report / Interim report / Accounting of finances | | |
| Project duration (min-max) | 8 years (years 6-8 funded subject to satisfactory progress) | | |
| Allocation for the call | Up to 5 awards will be offered, with the potential of more fellowships being supported subject to availability of funding | | |
| Project budget (min- max) | £266,720 (80% of max salary for 8 years) + directly allocated costs (estate costs) and indirect costs + £720,000 (research expenses, equipment under £10K, travel, 80% of PDRA cost, contribution to 4-year PhD studentship, part-cost of equipment over £10K, public engagement, trainings) Max. £1.87M over 8 years | | |
| Success rate | NA NA | | |
| Eligible costs | Research Fellow's salary and associated on-costs as set by the host organisation. RS will cover 80% of salary costs. DHF award holders are expected to establish their independent research career and as such, the basic salary requested should be at a level commensurate with your skills, responsibilities, expertise and experience. For the first year, we would not expect the basic salary to fall below the salary of academic staff at an equivalent career stage such as an early-stage lecturer. Salary costs must be justified and further supporting information will be requested at the point of offer. Should the host organisation wish to supplement the basic salary provided by the Society it is free to do so at its own discretion. Directly allocated (including estate costs) and indirect costs (80% contribution). 100% of research expenses, including consumables, equipment, travel, etc Research assistance: 80% of the full economic cost of a postdoctoral researcher/PDRA. Contribution to a 4-year PhD studentship. Public engagement: fellows can apply for up to £8,000 to support their public engagement activities. | | |

| Fellow's own training and career/professional development as well as training for any staff and students supported on this grant. It is expected that a minimum of £30,000 of research costs per annum will be requested. An assumed level of inflation should be included for the full duration of the grant. The level of inflation will need to be justified. Mode of funding Language of expected in the professional professional development and professional profe | | Professional development and training: up to £8,000 (over the fellowship duration) for | | | |
|--|----------------------|---|--|--|--|
| this expected that a minimum of £30,000 of research costs per annum will be requested. An assumed level of inflation should be included for the full duration of the grant. The level of inflation will need to be justified. An assumed level of inflation will need to be justified. English application The Royal Society, 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London SWIY 5AG. Before contacting us, please check whether your question is answered by the scheme guidelines. If not, please email the Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: dht@royalsociety.org or call. +4420 7451 2666. Call identifier OHF 2025 Call info The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers with have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on the level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowshipe e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tallored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experiences since their institution in the relevant section of the applicant of the potential situation; as such, we would expect that any | | Fellow's own training and career/professional development as well as training for any | | | |
| An assumed level of inflation should be included for the full duration of the grant. The level of inflation will need to be justified. An application Provider The Royal Society, 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London SW1Y 5AG. Before contacting us, please check whether your question is answered by the scheme guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: alt 100 guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: alt 100 guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: alt 100 guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: alt 100 guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: alt 100 guidelines. If not, please email the Dornthy Hodgkin Fellowship Team of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-lime). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Stat building an independent research career at a UK university or research work and other commitments iii) Stat building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research v) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions The applicant must h | | | | | |
| Language of application | | An assumed level of inflation should be included for the full duration of the grant. The | | | |
| English application | | • | | | |
| Provider The Royal Society, 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London SW1Y 5AG. Before contacting us, please check whether your question is answered by the scheme guidelines. If not, please email the Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: dhf@royalsociety.org or call: +4420 7451 2666. Call identifier DHF 2025 The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexibile support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need of flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather t | | | | | |
| Before contacting us, please check whether your question is answered by the scheme guidelines. If not, please email the Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: dhf@royalsociety.org or call: 4420 7451 2666. Call info The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will | application | | | | |
| guidelines. If not, please email the Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship Team: dhf@royalsociety.org or call: +4420 7451 2666. Call identifier DHF 2025 The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for fessible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research research institution The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicants general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility wi | Provider | | | | |
| Call identifier Call identifier Call info DHF 2025 Call info The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research Iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowsh | | | | | |
| Call info The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments: ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibi | | | | | |
| The Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship (DHF) programme aims to support the next generation of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than | Call identifier | | | | |
| of research leaders undertaking cutting edge research by offering a recognised first step into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexible working are always taken into consideration: The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Soc | | | | | |
| into an independent research career for outstanding scientists and engineers who have a current need for flexible support (e.g., need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research Conditions / Prob (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Oth | Call IIIIO | | | | |
| current need for flexible support (e.g. need to work part-time). Depending on their level of experience, those appointed are often expected to be strong candidates for permanent posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Conditions / The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants with the saket to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexibile support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa | | | | | |
| posts in institutions at the end of their fellowships. The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Conditions / Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexibile support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are a | | | | | |
| The objectives of the DHF programme are to enable outstanding early career scientists and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation, as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regardine he need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the applicantion form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fe | | | | | |
| and engineers with the potential to become leaders in their field to: i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Conditions / Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provided this information in the relevant section of the applicantion form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who ar | | | | | |
| i) Work flexibly from the outset and during the tenure of their fellowship e.g. on a part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hol | | | | | |
| part-time basis or converting from full-time to part-time and back again to help match work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are legible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisati | | | | | |
| work and other commitments ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any carring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent | | | | | |
| ii) Start building an independent research career at a UK university or research institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are ligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an | | | | | |
| institution iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / The applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexibile support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists | | | | | |
| quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via <td></td><td></td> | | | | | |
| quality and innovative lines of scientific research iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional development, networking and engagement opportunities Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via <td></td><td>iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high-</td> | | iii) Give them the freedom, time and long-term flexible support to pursue high- | | | |
| Conditions / Restrictions Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grant | | | | | |
| Th applicant must have no more than 6 years of actual research experience since their PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Gr | | iv) Develop as research leaders by offering tailored high-quality professional | | | |
| PhD (i.e. the date on which the degree was approved by the board of graduate studies) by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here yo | | | | | |
| by the closing date of the round. Career breaks and part-time working are always taken into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions | | | | | |
| into consideration. The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval | Restrictions | | | | |
| The applicant must demonstrate a need for flexible support due to personal circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other | | | | | |
| circumstances which is current/will be current by the start of their Fellowship and for the duration of the Fellowship. The need for flexibility must comprise an ongoing rather than potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Departmen | | | | | |
| potential situation; as such, we would expect that any caring responsibilities would impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of Proposal consists of Summary Fage: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| impact an applicant's general daily routine in order to justify any flexible working arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| arrangements offered by this Fellowship. The information regarding the need for flexibility will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| will only be viewed by the Society's Grants Team and applicants will be asked to provide this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| this information in the relevant section of the application form. Applicants should not therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| therefore refer to their need for flexible support in their personal statement. Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Dorothy Hodgkin Fellows requiring a visa to work in the UK are eligible to apply for a Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories are also available. In line with the highly prestigious nature of a Dorothy Hodgkin Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | · · | | | |
| Fellowship, the Global Talent visa is designed for people who are recognised as leaders and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | Global Talent Visa under the fast-track process of endorsement. Other visa categories | | | |
| and potential leaders in their field. Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Not eligible: researchers who hold a permanent post in a University or not-for-profit research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| research organisation, or those who hold or have previously held an equivalent and/or nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| nationally competitive fellowship to establish an independent research group and therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| therefore independent researcher status. Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Proposal consists of You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a mandatory requirement at the application submission stage only. Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Applications must be submitted online using the Royal Society's Grants management system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | Proposal consists of | You should register for an ORCID identifier via https://orcid.org/register . This is a | | | |
| system (Flexi-Grant®) via https://grants.royalsociety.org . The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| The application form contains: 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| 1) Summary Page: here you will find instructions for submission of your application for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| for approval from the UK Host Organisation (approval only once all other parts are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| are complete) and you can invite participants (e.g. Head of Department and two Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| Nominated Referees) who are required to contribute to the application. | | | | | |
| | | | | | |
| | | | | | |

| | 0\ Naa | A for floribities (000 monds this postion will be used by the DC Create to an | |
|---------------------|--|--|--|
| | | d for flexibility (200 words, this section will be read by the RS Grants team | |
| | | the panel will be judging your application solely based on scientific merit): | |
| | i) | Current need for flexibility | |
| | ii) | How you plan to use the flexibility offered through the DHF | |
| | | licant personal details: title, names, address, organisation, country, e-mail | |
| | | ess (this must be the one used to register a user account on FlexiGrant). | |
| | | amend which type of contact your application participants are (e.g. Head of | |
| | | artment, collaborator). | |
| | | licant career summary | |
| | · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · | earch proposal: | |
| | i) | Start date (Fellowships are expected to commence between 1 October | |
| | | 2025 and 1 January 2026) | |
| | ii) | End date (must be exactly 8 years from proposed start date) | |
| | iii) | Project title | |
| | iv) | Keywords (5-10) | |
| | v) | Subject group https://royalsociety.org/grants-schemes- | |
| | | awards/grants/subject-groups/ | |
| | vi) | Subject area | |
| | vii) | Abstract (scientific summary of your project) (max 400 words) | |
| | viii) | Lay summary (reason for choosing this field and why is it particularly | |
| | , | exciting/interesting/important, potential benefit to wider society; this | |
| | | section is important to Panel members who are of a broad range of | |
| | | fields) (max 250 words) | |
| | ix) | Research proposal (detailed five-year project plan alongside a broader | |
| | , | eight-year vision and strategy) (max 2000 words or if using PDF upload | |
| | | 4 sides of A4 with font size no smaller than Arial 10) | |
| | x) | Named collaborators | |
| | xi) | Host organisation | |
| | xii) | Host department | |
| | xiii) | Justification for choice of host organisation | |
| | , | management and data sharing | |
| | | of animal research | |
| | , | of human participants and tissue | |
| | | ncial details: provide details of the funding required for each year of the | |
| | | arch fellowship under the relevant headings. | |
| | 11) Applicant declaration | | |
| | 12) Nominated reference support: invite the referees under the participants tab. It | | |
| | is the applicant's responsibility to ensure that referees do this on time and by the | | |
| | deadline (Tue 31 Oct 2023 15:00 GMT). At least one referee should be someone | | |
| | who has worked closely with you, but the other must be external to your current | | |
| | | arch group. You should not choose both referees from your proposed host | |
| | | nisation, and if possible, one should be an international referee. Your named | |
| | | d of Department cannot be listed as a referee. | |
| | | d of Department support: the Head of Department should detail your | |
| | | bility for the department and also set out their intentions for your career | |
| | | ression at the host organisation. | |
| | | rsity monitoring | |
| Evaluation criteria | | track record of the applicant commensurate with research experience: past | |
| | | s, research career to date, publication record, likely contribution to research | |
| | | otential to become a research leader. | |
| | | y of host institution including appropriate expertise/equipment and research | |
| | | as well as support for career development. | |
| | | merit, originality, significance and quality of the proposed research project | |
| | | nood of achieving goals. | |
| Research areas | | ust be within the Royal Society's remit of natural sciences, which includes | |
| ו ווכטכמוטוו מוכמט | | ited to biological research, chemistry, engineering, mathematics and | |
| | | a full list, please see the Royal Society guidance page . | |
| Call workshop | priyaica. FUI | a rail list, please see the Noyal Society guidance page . | |
| IOCB contact | Please inform | n the IOCB Project Office about your intention to apply. | |
| TOOD CONTACT | | | |
| | | te to contact us anytime on projectoffice@uochb.cas.cz for consulting, | |
| | discussion of | rneip. ová +420 220 183 179 | |
| | | 6 +420 220 183 179 6 +420 220 183 229 | |
| | Jilka Silei OVa | 1 14CU CCU 100 CC3 | |

| Download | DHF 2025 Summary |
|-----------|---|
| documents | DHF 2025 Scheme Notes |
| | DHF 2025 Frequently Asked Questions |
| | Royal Society Early Career Fellowships tips |
| | Royal Society Terms and Conditions |